

Safeguarding Children & Young People

This CPD accredited course will provide a comprehensive, interactive overview of the essentials of safeguarding children and young people, including signs and indicators of child abuse and neglect, vulnerability factors and procedures for dealing with disclosures. It will focus throughout on promoting the shared responsibility of all in safeguarding at-risk and exploited young people. This course will be led by one of our expert trainers, who will have substantial experience of supporting children in their frontline work.

Who is this course aimed at?

This course is aimed at anyone that comes into contact with children and young people in their practice, but is specifically tailored to educate those who work less directly with children, i.e. administrative staff in organisations that support children, or need an initial introduction to safeguarding young people.

What this course covers:

- Key introduction to the fundamentals of safeguarding
- Child abuse, neglect and how to identify possible signs and indicators of abuse
- Exploring delegates' own role and responsibility, including responding to disclosures, recording and sharing information
- Listening to the voice of the child
- Documentation, reporting stages and sharing information
- Case discussions and exploring professional dilemmas

This course is only offered as bespoke to your organisation.

Time: 2 hours

'It was very useful for working with children.' Student at Leeds Beckett University

Please contact info@basistraining.org.uk for more information